

Yes! we exposed Henry J. Waterhouse on the ethical issue behind scaring kids and stealing boo for more energy.

The CEO is now going to prison because of this. This is very illegal and unethical making the company and workers look bad. Scaring kids is very unethical.

Poor Boo! Randall took her to that SECRET room. This won't happen again.

What can monsters like do now? We won't have jobs and energy for the city.

Sully: I have an idea!
Wazowski: what is it?

Sully: What place has kids crying and laughing? A DAYCARE!! We can turn this place into a daycare.

Wazowski! That's perfect! Because humans can drop their kids off for free through the closet for free and we get energy for the city!

Look! They're having fun. This benefits both monsters and humans from around the world!

This idea is very ethical and efficient.
